DEFENDANT'S FIRST MOTION IN LIMINE

For its motion in limine, Defendant Russell County School Board (the "School Board"), states as follows:

1. The Plaintiff may attempt to introduce evidence that defendant Bobby Gobble molested other minors and/or that he pled guilty to such abuse. Such evidence is irrelevant to the Plaintiff's claims and can only serve to inflame the jury.
2. Evidence of defendant Gobble's other crimes is particularly irrelevant given summary judgment has been granted to the Plaintiff on liability as to defendant Gobble.
3. These statements should not be admitted at trial as it is irrelevant and the potential for unfair prejudice to the School Board greatly outweighs any probative value. Even if these statements were relevant, Rule 403 empowers this Court to exclude relevant evidence "if its probative value is substantially outweighed by danger of...confusing the issues [or] misleading the jury."
